HISTORY AND ART EXHIBIT

INTERESTING SHOWING IS MADE

Exhibit of Antiques and Art Goods Arouses Enthusiasm Among the Visitors

History and romance were brought closely to hand by the exhibit at the Woman's club house Wednesday afternoon. The collection of articles of historical or artistic interest and from foreign countries was interesting in the extreme. The affair was held under the auspices of the Dickens Fellowship.

Probably few people realized how remarkable a collection of such things could be gathered together in Sierra Madre. So great was the delight of the visitors that a rather insistent demand was heard for a repetition of the event at some time not too far in the future. It is probable that an even larger collection could be gathered with a little more time and more careful searching.

The collection included articles of household use, strange articles of clothing, dainty silks and laces and specimens of needlework, old jewelry and dishes, ancient books and documents, and articles of all descriptions from many foreign countries.

Perhaps the oldest and also the most valuable article displayed was a copy of what is known as the "Breeches Bible," dating back to 1607, and loaned by Mrs. C. W. Mitchell. This old book takes its name from the rendering of the seventh verse of the third chapter of Genesis, referring to the inhabitants of the garden: "The eyes of them both were opened, and they saw that they were naked, and they sewed fig-leaves together and made themselves breeches." Other versions describing the first human garments as "aprons" gave rise to the familiar name of this edition of the Bible, which was the translation of Whittingham, Gliby and Sampson. The scarcity of copies of the "Breeches Bible" makes it extremely valuable from the collector's standpoint.

Mrs. M. W. Copps had the largest collection of anyone, and one of the most varied. Numerous articles were in some way connected with colonial days at Concord, Mass. And then there were a great many articles from Mexico, collected by Messrs. Fred and Arthur Copps, including rugs, blankets, needlework, household articles and machetes.

One of the oldest articles shown was a policeman's alarm used in London about 200 years ago, and loaned by W. P. Caley. It is a wooden ratchet affair, making a strident noise when the handle was turned. Many other articles, both English and American, were shown by the Caley family.

The Norris family loaned a great many books, documents and household articles, dating back to early American history. Miss Annis B. Coffey loaned many household articles, among the most interesting being a beautiful silver candle snuffer and tray, and an old copper cake mold.

Interesting exhibits from the South Sea Islands were shown by Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Bunker and by Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Mitchell, the latter also showing many articles of historical interest both American and English.

The Misses Johnson loaned many household articles and books which had been in their family for a great many years, as did Mrs. L. Dietz. Among the many interesting things shown by Mrs. Dietz was an inkwell curiously carved from a solid block of stone, presented to her father by General Kossuth.

Interesting autographs were those of Porfirio Diaz exhibited by Mrs. Copps, and Ralph Waldo Emerson, Oliver Wendell Holmes and Grover Cleveland, exhibited by Mrs. John G. Blumer. The extent of the exhibits prevents anything like a complete enumeration.

Piano selections by Miss Luella Kellar, violin numbers by Miss Maybelle Caley and songs by Miss Gertrude Cook were important features of the evening entertainment. Miss Kellar, whose home is in Monrovia, has had much experience as a concert pianist and possesses ability of a high order.

BEHIND THE PROCESSION

About the slowest wheels in our modern civilization are the so-called "wheels of justice." An action brought fifty years ago against the city of New York by Charles L. Appleby, resulting in the longest-lived suit in the history of New York jurisprudence, has just been settled. Appleby brought suit for damage done to his property by a mob during the Civil War. Through compromise the city has confessed judgment, Appleby dropping his original demand for interest and receiving the amount first sued for, $7300. When the plaintiff brought suit he was a young man. He is now eighty-eight years of age. Since the suit was filed he has seen many vicissitudes of fortune, and nearly all the lawyers connected with the case and most of the judges before whom it passed have died. Nevertheless he had twelve witnesses, all over seventy years of age, who saw the mob wreck his house.

WILL CELEBRATE BIRTHDAY

Extensive preparations are being made by the people of Alhambra to have a big celebration Saturday, July 12, to properly observe the Tenth Anniversary of incorporation of that rapidly growing city. A splendid program of auto races, sports and various other amusements is being arranged, and not wishing to be selfish and enjoy all these pleasures alone, a general invitation is extended for all to attend the Big Birthday Party.

SUSTAINS LIGHT RATE

PASADENA MUNICIPAL MANAGER MAKES REPORT ON EDISON LIGHTING CHARGES

Officials of the Southern California Edison Company are feeling pretty good over the report of C. W. Koerner to the city council of Pomona in which he sustains the charges for current made by the company in that city. The rate is the same as is charged in Sierra Madre and Monrovia. Koerner is the manager of Pasadena's municipal lighting plant where he has the Edison company as a competitor. Consequently the officials of the company looked with disfavor upon his appointment as the city's expert in Pomona, fearing that he would be inclined to "stick" the company if he got a chance by reporting in favor of a lower rate. District Agent Neelands calls attention to the following comment from the Pomona Review:

"With the filing of C. W. Koerner's voluminous report to the Pomona city council demonstrating that he had made a thorough investigation of the Southern California Edison Company's properties, it is gratifying to note that he fully sustains the present gas and electric rates as voluntarily put into effect by the Edison Company on January 1 last. That the Edison Company agreed to the rates so established with the previous council in May or June a year ago is in itself evidence that the company is endeavoring to be fair in its charges for the utilities in question, and it was not endeavoring to forestall any possible investigation. This endorsement of the company's business methods by a gentleman who (due to his business associations) can in no wise be accused of the slightest leaning toward corporate interests must certainly be gratifying to the company as well as pleasing to its customers, who now have every reason to be satisfied that the charges made have been just and equitable.

"The present council itself is to be congratulated upon having satisfactorily solved this complicated problem which has been more or less of a worry to its predecessors.

"This is getting at a business proposition in a business-like way, and while experts may be expensive, the money so invested is well expended. The people now know that their rights are adequately protected, and the company is in a position to proceed with the development of the business without that element of uncertainty that has characterized the past.

SAME OLD STUFF

Argonaut: The New York Sun asks despairingly if the Congressional Record must be "always the same old, swollen, dropsical, padded, lying fraud." This vigorous description is called forth by the report of a speech delivered in the House by Edward L. Hamilton. The speech occupies about five pages, but it seems to have produced "Laughter" sixteen times, "Renewed Laughter" twice, "Laughter on the Republican side" nine times, "Laughter and Applause on the Republican Side" five times, "Applause on the Republican Side" thirteen times, and "Prolonged Applause on the Republican Side" once. What a very funny man Mr. Hamilton must be, and what a pity no one reads the Congressional Record except newspaper men, who are thus tormented for their many sins. Mr. Hamilton should write a book, so that we may laugh with him instead of at him.

MT. WILSON BY AUTO

TOLL ROAD BECOMES MORE POPULAR AS EASE OF TRIP BECOMES KNOWN

In company with Dr. Paul W. Wilson of Whittier, an old college friend, the editor of the News made the ascent of Mt. Wilson by auto the other day. The car was a new model Ford roadster and made the trip without difficulty. About two hours were taken for the ascent, including several stops. One delay was caused by a Buick roadster which had started half an hour earlier but which was overtaken at the seven-mile post.

The start was made in a fog almost thick enough to be called a rain. But about half way to the top the fog was left below and bright sunshine reigned. The thermometer at the summit registered about 90 degrees.

Mr. Wilson is becoming increasingly popular with autoists, there being six machines at the hotel at noon that day. On the descent two cars and three motorcycles were passed.

No great difficulties are offered by the trail, in spite of the ascent of 5000 feet in about ten miles. Small cars can make the turns more easily than do large ones. It is not a trip one would care to make with a careless driver. The descent causes one's heart to jump up into his throat more frequently than the ascent.

On the same day two Pasadena boys, George Armstrong and Charles Clark, set out to establish a record for the ascent, and succeeded. They drove a stripped Ford roadster to the top in 35 minutes. Anyone who cares for it is welcome to that record. That would not be exactly good medicine for nervous people.

CONGREGATIONAL CHURCH

Children's Day will be observed next Sunday with a special program of music and recitation by members of the Sunday School and an address by the Pastor, Rev. W. H. Hannaford. Sunday School will convene at 10:15, instead of the usual hour, and the class records will be prepared and all be made ready for the program, which will begin at 11:00, the usual hour for the regular church service. The special Children's Day offering is for the work of the C. S. S. & P. S., the society that organizes Sunday Schools in places where there are none, and helps those schools which are so poor as to need help in order to continue their work.

At the evening service the Pastor will speak on the subject, "Repentance: the need, the nature and the results of it."

U.S. GUARDS WATER

FOREST SERVICE CO-OPERATES WITH MANY CITIES FOR PROTECTION OF FOREST WATER

Secretary Houston has just approved an agreement between the Department of Agriculture and the town of Safford, Arizona, by which the Forest Service and the town will cooperate to conserve Safford's water supply, which comes principally from the Crook National Forest.

This is the latest one of many such agreements. According to the figures of the Forest Service there are nearly 1200 cities and towns in the West which derive their water supply from lands within the National Forests. Where these cities desire it the Government joins hands with the citizens for the purpose of maintaining a permanent and pure water supply.

Stock raising, for example, or any other occupancy of the land, which ordinarily would be encouraged, would be inadvisable on a watershed which forms a source of drinking water. The Forest Service recognizes that water is as necessary a commodity for wooded hillsides to supply as are sawlogs or mine props. A watershed area may offer an opportunity to furnish the greatest benefit to the largest number through supplying an unpolluted source of water for domestic purposes.

Contracts like that just made with Safford are now in force with Cascade, Colorado Springs, Durango, and Manitou in Colorado; Salt Lake in Utah; and Baker City and The Dalles, Oregon. The famous Bull Run watershed, which supplies Portland, Oregon, is on the Oregon National Forest.

The cooperative agreement in each case provides that the land may not be used without approval by the town, except for the protection and care of the forests. The Government agrees to extend and improve the forests by seeding, planting, and forest management, so far as the funds for that purpose are available. The city, for its part, assists by paying the salaries of the additional guards necessary to carry out the agreement, and contracts to bear the greater part of the cost of any improvement work which it considers immediately desirable.

GUESTS AT ROCKWILD

Mrs. Charles H. Mears of Altadena recently entertained with a bridge luncheon at Rockwild, Carter's Camp, the other members of the party being Mrs. A. Woodward, Mrs. J. C. Trask, and Mrs. A. Duer. The week end guests at Rockwild included Dr. R. D. Emery, Mrs. Lena B. Emery, Clyde K. Emery, Mrs. Bowman, W. J. Dodd, Mr. and Mrs. J. Wells Smith, all of Los Angeles.

FOGS OF THE PACIFIC COAST

Pacific Coast: A great deal of misapprehension exists in the minds of non-residents of this state, relative to these early morning visitors on this coast from off the broad Pacific during the summer months. This error is due largely to the statement, "No fog," or "free from fogs," which appear in advertising literature of industrious real estate agents who, in their consuming desire to sell property would impress on the minds of prospective customers the virtues of the beneficent climate. As a matter of fact these daily visitations of humidity are benisons which make physical existence a delight, during a time of year when residents of less congenial climes are baked in the heat of the desert and of the central west or are broiled in the humid atmosphere of the Atlantic coast. True it is that for those of the human race who are afflicted with pulmonary diseases such climatic conditions are not beneficial, but even this class need not despair, since a half day's journey by rail will bring them to sections of the state where fogs do not abound, and the climate has healing in its wings for such as they.

For physical comfort from May to December no other part of this green earth is equal to this southland, and the majority of men and women are lighter of heart and more cheerful in spirit when in good health than when they are ill. Delightful as are the winters, the summers are much more so in Southern California.

To this might be added that the elevation of Sierra Madre above the valley affords the minimum of fogs, and air with the purity of the mountain heights—all in combination with the most desirable features of the semitropical southland—without the discomforts of the desert.

MIGHT BE LONGER

Some salesmen are equal to almost any emergency and do not spare the "other car" when occasion requires. "But the Blank car is guaranteed for life," protested a prospective purchaser to a salesman of the sort. "Yes, I know it," retorted the quickwitted salesman, "but our car is guaranteed for a whole year." It required several moments for the prospective purchaser to see the point.—Exchange.

NEVER TOO LATE

Several Ohio lawyers once gathered in Judge Wilson's room after adjournment of court, and were discussing the retirement of a member of the bar. Among them was one whose practice was worth twenty-five thousand dollars a year. He said: "I have been practicing several years, and am well fixed. I have thought I would like to retire and devote my remaining years to studies I have neglected." "Study law," put in Judge Wilson.—Exchange.

NEW ROAD FOR FOR MOTORISTS

AUTOS GO IN YOSEMITE SOON

Roads Are in Course of Preparation For Admission of Machines to Valley

Many inquiries have been received at this office regarding the admission of autos to the Yosemite Valley, announcements to that effect having been issued from the Department of the Interior. On the occasion of the recent visit of the Southern California Editorial Association to the valley Major Littlebrandt, superintendent of the national park, said he had not yet received orders to admit machines but expects such orders before long.

The difficulty seems to be one of suitable roads for ingress and egress. The character of the roads would make it obviously impracticable to allow the use of autos on the roads where the horse drawn stages are operated. The road from El Portal, for instance, over which nearly all visitors pass, follows the Merced river canyon and for several miles is just as narrow and on just as steep a slope as the Mt. Wilson toll road, with only occasional turnouts.

Further light is thrown on the matter by the following from Pacific motoring:

Official orders from Secretary of the Interior Lane at Washington to Major Littlebrandt, Acting Superintendent of the Yosemite National Park, which contains the famous Yosemite Valley grant, nominates the old Coulterville Road as the official and at present only route into the Yosemite for automobiles. The Major is instructed to draw up official instructions and rules to be submitted to the Interior Department and then as soon as these rules have been decided upon the automobiles will be allowed to get into the floor of the valley.

As matters stand now, the Yosemite Transportation Company, which carries more than 90 per cent of all the visitors into the Yosemite from where they land by the Yosemite Valley Railway at El Portal is the only opposition to the opening of all roads to the motoring public.

Last season 10,884 persons visited the wonders of Yosemite, of which 7984 came in by the Yosemite Valley R. R. and the stage line, cost per passenger being $18.50 round trip from Merced, where the Y. V. R. R. begins on line of both railroads through the center of state. The stage rate for the 12 miles from El Portal, end of railroad, into valley is $2.50 each way, which is included in the $18.50 rate. The railroad trains are so run that all the tourists except a few who come in on through trains at night and have Pullmans run over Yosemite Valley R. R. in early morning, have to stay over night at El Portal, where the hotel averages about $3 per person.

All the highways enter Yosemite Valley parallel, coming onto the floor of the valley at the lower end. The Coulterville Road enters the Merced River Canyon at Cascade Falls, five miles above the end of the railroad. The Wawona Road follows along the south wall of the valley, while the Big Oak Flat Road follows along the north wall, both entering the valley about opposite, near El Capitan.

Anticipating the change that automobiles will bring, the stage people are already planning to change to motor trucks for next season, thus doing away with $25,000 worth of horses and as much more invested in four seat stages, which offer a good view to the two passengers on the driver's seat only.

THE SHORT LIFE OF CHRYSANTHEMUM VARIETIES

Revue Horticole: Surprise is often expressed at the great number of new varieties of Chrysanthemums which are exhibited each year and receive awards. But if it were not for these novelties, the assortments would soon dwindle. For the best varieties degenerate and pass away very quickly, living hardly a dozen years. Thus the Chrysanthemum specialist must be constantly at work to produce something new. Otherwise, the cultivation of this favorite fall flower would soon become impossible, and with it the popular fall show at Cours-la-Reine, which would soon cease to draw the public if it had to depend on the fruit exhibits alone.

U.S. SPENDS MILLIONS

By David Starr Jordan

A recent military journal states that "Uncle Sam is San Francisco's best customer." Five million of dollars were spent by the commissary for supplies in 1912.

For 1913, it is estimated by the quartermaster's office that the business Uncle Sam "will transact in San Francisco in the fiscal year which will end June 30, 1913, will be seventy per cent greater than that of last year." This would aggregate $8,500,000.

"Ninety cents out of every dollar of this not inconsiderable sum" will "swell the bank accounts of San Francisco merchants, civilians, mechanics, laborers and others to whom Uncle Sam pays living expenses."

I make no criticism of these expenditures, and certainly none of the careful officers responsible for the details.

I wish only to call attention to the general fact that the coastwise cities crave "defense" not because of any fear of foreign attack, but because Uncle Sam is notoriously "a good spender."

Almost any city would feel the need of "national defense" if it had San Francisco's opportunity.

And yet eight and a half millions is a very large sum of money.

There are two universities of the first class in the vicinity of San Francisco, one generously endowed by the state, the other by private interests. In salaries of teachers, these two spend nearly a million dollars a year, and their supply account in San Francisco approaches two hundred thousand more.

The commissary will spend in 1913, therefore, if our figures are correct, more than a dozen such universities.

It is proper to keep up fortifications and fleet at San Francisco, not for defense, but for conformity. For one thing, this is in accord with a long-established old-world convention.

But we know that these defenses are, in fact, as useless as the buttons on the flap of my coat, because they do not defend us against any real enemy.

The buttons on the coat are retained in accord with a good old world convention. We must wear these buttons until the world agrees to cut them off.

In the same way, until the nations agree to raze their fortresses, we must hold on to ours, and we must spend our money freely for the defense of the Golden Gate.

THE LAND OF LITTLE CARE

Says the literary critic of The Argonaut:

"There is more hearty and solid satisfaction in one of Mr. Kiser's unpretentious rhymes than in many a volume of analyses of sickly souls that pass as poetry. Readers of the Chicago Record-Herald are always quick to turn to Mr. Kiser's column for some quaint and homely fancy that will give a rosy color to the day, and they are rarely disappointed. Now we have a little volume of Mr. Kiser's verse for which we would willingly exchange a whole self of the aforesaid alleged poetry."

This delightful little book can be seen at the News Printery. It's "great stuff" for vacation reading—or any other time. An ideal gift book.

The next meeting of the Dickens Fellowship will be held on Wednesday, June 11, at the home of Mrs. O. M. Cadwell.

WOMAN'S CLUB NOTES

At the regular meeting of the Woman's Club next Monday afternoon the program will be by Mrs. J. J. Abramson, singing "Songs of Life."

Mrs. G. H. Johnson, chairman of Ways and Means, is making an urgent appeal for assistance and donations for the cooked food sale to be given next week on Saturday. The management of the Hotel Shirley has donated the use of the necessary space, and with this excellent location, a successful sale is assured. Home cooked food of every sort is needed, and it is hoped that every club member will cook something as the necessity of raising money at this time to pay certain bills is imperative.

Jams In Verse

A REVERIE.

FIRE is a-roarin' in the ol' fireplace, An' in every dancin' flame you can sit an' trace Fire forms of figures that form an fade away,
Like your thoughts are doin' as you sit an' watch it play.

As you smoke your glowin' pipe in the easy chair
An' the fitful firelight's a-dancin' everywhere Seems as though you're back again, many years ago,
To the dear ol' places that your childhood used to know.

There's a boy a-wadin' round the ol' mill stream,
Ripplin' an' a-dancin' in the sunlight's silvery gleam,
With a willow fishin' pole an' a can of bait
An' a tattered ol' straw hat on his tousled pate.

So he used to spend his time all the summer through,
Lazylike an' care free, without a thing to do;
Happy as the birds that sung in the willow trees
Wanderin' over hill an' dale like a passin' breeze.

So the visions come an' go in the firelight's gleams
Till you're lost an' wanderin' in a land of dreams,
Losin' track of passin' time till first thing you know Cold is creepin' round your chair an' the fire's low.

—Si Holler.

LOVE'S TOMORROW.

TOMORROW is a dreamy revery, a castle in the air,
A purple mist, alas! I cannot find it anywhere.
I never count it on the rosary of my years.
Only for today I save and hold all joys and fears.

YESTERDAY I said I loved you and again today,
But "tomorrow?" you ask. Ah, that I cannot say!
I only hope that ever, beside tomorrow's open door,
Your voice shall sing to me in love for evermore.

—Katherine Ward.

THE LONELY ROOM.

LONELY room, which late her presence knew,
Her gracious presence, which makes bright the day And through the dreams of night moves like a ray
Of sunshine when it flashes from the dew.
How bare you seem, today bereft of her!
Yet from this chair her face shone out on me.
Here her hand rested, lying light and free,
That hand whose touch can all my pulses stir.

O blessed room, which holds her memory yet!
Here in the window from which once looked she
At the same velvet grass, the flower, the tree, Before me now. Henceforth my life is set
To the dear music of the words she spoke When in my heart love's rosene morning broke.

—Ninette M. Lowater in New York Sun.

THE FIRING LINE.

FOR glory? For good? For fortune or fame?
Why ho for the front where the battle is on!
Leave the rear to the dolt, the lazy, the lame.
Go forward as ever the valiant have gone Whether city or field, whether mountain or mine,
Go forward, right on to the firing line
Whether newsboy or plowboy, cowboy or clerk
Fight forward, be ready, be steady, be first,
Be fairest, be bravest, be best at your work.
Exult and be glad; dare to hunger, to thirst,
As David, as Alfred—let dogs skulk and whine—
There is room but for men on the firing line.
Aye, the place to fight and the place to fall—
As fall we must, all in God's good time—
It is where the manliest man is the wall,
Where boys are as men in their pride and prime,
Where glory gleams brightest,
where brightest eyes shine, Far out on the roaring red firing line.
—Joaquin Miller (Died Feb. 17, 1913).

THUS SPAKE ZOROASTER.

POLUTE thou not my spirit; keep it pure,
And let thy pathway be the way of truth.
For truth is loftier than an earthly crown, Yields honor and nobility to kings, Raises the lowly born to Virtue's throne PAY fervent homage unto nature's laws
And all the wondrous works of God admire,
The oceans that reflect the dying sun,
The mountains where ye place departed friends,
The stars, the skies, the earth, the waves, the air.

AND these last do thou evermore keep
pure,
For from the earth spring forth the needed fruits;
The balmy air contains the breath of God;
The waters that ye drain support all life.
So from pollution keep all these secure.
—A. E. Ardissier-Heeramanek.

THE REAL TREASURE.

THE real treasure is that laid up by men or woman
Through charity and piety, temperance and self control.
The treasure thus hid is secure and passes not away.
Though he leave the fleeting riches of this world, this a man takes with him—A treasure that no wrong of others and no thief can steal.
Let the wise man do good deeds—the treasure follows of itself.
—Nidhikanda Sutta.

IMPERCEPTIBLE.

THIS winter has been just immense.
A balmy thing.
We'll hardly know the difference
When it is spring.
—Louisville Courier-Journal.

HOW TO MAKE NOVEL RIBBON SANDWICHES.

Do you know how to make ribbon sandwiches? Use white and brown bread, cutting each slice across the loaf. Spread lightly with a paste made from canned red peppers and creamed cheese mixed with a little mayonnaise.

When the sandwiches are done, put a dozen or more on top of one another, the brown slice always down. Press under heavy weights, then slice from top to bottom, so the white and brown appear alternately in ribbon effect. The filling for this sandwich must be put on very thin.
A similar treatment is white bread and a deep rye bread, or with a delicately tinted rye bread and nut bread. This last needs no filling, although a thin layer of orange marmalade may be spread on the pressed slices after they are cut lengthwise.

HOW TO PRUNE TREES.

Use Conservatism In Cutting Away Limbs and Branches.

How should bearing trees be pruned?
First, cut out all dead limbs. They are a menace to the living parts as long as they remain on the trees, breeding rots and often parasitic diseases. Never allow dead branches or stubs to stay on a fruit tree at any time.

Second, where branches crowd, cross and interlace, making in summer a dense mass of foliage which the sun cannot penetrate, do a little thinning.
Large, highly colored and fine flavored fruit cannot be produced in a tangle of branches and beneath a curtain of leaves. This is just where the fruit is covered with fungus also. The germs which cause it cannot grow without moisture, and if the sun has a chance to dry off the foliage and fruit there is sure to be less scabby and rotten fruit.

Thin out, but be careful. The most desirable quality in a man who prunes is conservatism. Think twice before taking off any limb. See if you cannot save it by taking off another smaller limb which interferes with it. If a tree is pruned carefully from the time it is set there should be no necessity for cutting off very large limbs when it is old. A careful man goes over his trees, young and old, several times during the growing months, rubbing off and checking shoots which he sees will make trouble later. Husband the energies of your trees by preventing, instead of curing, overcrowding in the top.

In regions where there is liability of serious injury to fruit trees from sun scalding the tops are not thinned as much as in more humid sections. It is necessary to keep the fruit trees of the western plains of Nebraska and of California much thicker topped than the trees of the Atlantic states.

Carnation Cream for the hands has proven so popular with those who have tried it as to create a demand for it.
Consequently a supply of it has been placed on sale at the News Printery.
In 25c and 50c bottles.

UNUSUAL HONESTY

A farmer in great need of extra hands at haying time finally asked Si Warren, who was accounted the town fool, if he could help him out.
"What'll ye pay?" asked Si.
"I'll pay what you're worth," answered the farmer.
Si scratched his head a minute, then announced decisively.
"I'll be durned if I'll work for that!"
—Everybody's.

For your friend

You have been wondering what to give your friend who graduates from school or college this spring. It must be something pretty nifty if it is to be appreciated, for your friend is pretty well posted on what's what. You will find the problem simplified if you will come to the News Printery and look around.

Here are books of various kinds which would be enjoyed by almost any boy or girl. Books of verse, nature books, and little gift books with wonderfully attractive and inspiring poems.
Then there are folders, artistically printed, with sentiment and design expressively intended for commencement gifts. They are good enough to send alone, or may be enclosed with some more pretentious gift.

Every boy and girl needs a kodak album. If they already have one they will soon need another. This is the place to get the right kind.

Stationery, well chosen, is always an appropriate gift. Ask us if you want the right estimate on quality. We have the best made in pound boxes and handsome paperies.

If the school histories and the instructors would give the high school history classes the plain facts regarding the costs and losses of past wars the next generation would not stand for war at all. Tales of valor have their place in stimulating patriotism, but they should not be allowed to throw a glamour over the destruction of countless lives, the waste of countless money and the setting back of the whole economic order. All that is necessary to cure men of "the great illusion" is to give them the cold facts.
And it is well to begin early.

Spending Other Folks' Money

Next to the visiting knocker one of the worst bores is the visitor who insists on condescending to tell people how to improve their town. Just fifty thousand here and a quarter million there would begin to make the place begin to look like something, he says.
A few hours spent in looking over the town have given him a deeper insight into its needs than is possessed by residents who have spent years studying practicable solutions of local problems. He needs no knowledge of the city's resources to be able to offer his wise advice so freely and cheerfully.
As a matter of fact it is merely the old game of planning how to spend the income the other fellow is earning. It takes so little brains it is almost a mental disease. When a visitor knocks the town one can indulge the satisfaction of "jumping on him with both feet." But something more gentle is necessary for the bore who is merely too free with his advice.
Chloroform would serve admirably—administered preferably to the talker, but to the listener in cases where extreme politeness seems necessary.

Fine Municipal Spirit

The people of Long Beach have responded nobly to the demands of the hour arising from the auditorium tragedy. Their declared intention to meet all medical bills and funeral expenses is in striking contrast to the usual attitude of sitting back and waiting until compelled by damage suits to share the burdens resulting from such a calamity. The significance of the action is in its promptness, without waiting to see whether or not suits would be filed. If the evidences of heartfelt interest serve to forestall such legal actions it will be no more than the citizens of Long Beach deserve.

Colliers Talks Sense

I have had little or nothing to say about the alien land legislation because it did not appear to be a question of immediate local interest and because I thought altogether too much paper and ink were being devoted to the subject anyway. Whatever probability there was at first of international trouble has certainly been enhanced by the superheated newspaper discussions which have been going on.

But I would like to commend to the attention of everyone the articles recently appearing in Collier's Weekly on the subject, first an editorial on the problem of the intermingling of races and second an article by Peter Clarke MacFarlane on the California situation. Both contain much food for thought and come nearer to expressing my own sentiments than anything I have read.

Water Supply Must be Protected

Prospects that the city will very soon be in possession of bond money with which to take over the Baldwin interest in the Little Santa Anita canyon bring the time close at hand when sole ownership and control of the canyon water will be vested in the people of Sierra Madre. But a little while longer and the water company's holdings, already owned by the people, will also come under municipal ownership.
This will put the city in a position to enforce strict regulation of conditions in the canyons above the tunnels and intake in the stream.

That such regulation is necessary to keep the water supply pure is increasingly apparent to those who have opportunity to observe conditions. The need increases every month, as traffic over the trails increases, and will continue to increase from year to year.
At the earliest possible moment bridges should be built over the stream crossings at the Quarterway. Eventually it will undoubtedly be necessary to build fences to keep people and trail animals away from the stream, or even to rebuild that portion of the trail higher up on the canyon wall and entirely away from the waterway.
Water for drinking purposes can of course be made accessible by means of pipes. At present the stream is too convenient as a bathtub or sewer for dusty mountain hikers. The present amount of pollution may not be dangerous in view of the opportunity for purification in the lower stream. But there is no danger of keeping the water too pure for domestic use.

National forest officials are taking increased interest in the protection of municipal water supplies derived from within forest reserves, as indicated by a news article in another column.
Sierra Madre will do well to get in touch with the authorities and see what degree of co-operation can be secured.

Inglewood News: William J. Bryan is growing. In a recent address, remarking on his former impatience and impetuosity in defense of that which he believed to be right, he said that since he is growing older he has learned that "only those in error need to win at once; those who are right can wait." Seldom has a wiser truth been spoken by anyone.

Loomis Recorder: A hen is not supposed to have much sense or tact yet every time she lays an egg she cackles forth the fact. A rooster hasn't got a lot of intellect to show, but none the less most roosters have good sense enough to crow. But man—the greatest masterpiece that nature could devise, will often stop and hesitate before he'll advertise.
